

Floyd County Stormwater Department
City County Building, Room 119
311 Hauss Square, New Albany, IN 47150
Phone: 812-949-5446 Fax: 812-948-4734

8/31/2010

Dear Barrington Court Residents:

Starting in 2009 we received complaints that the drainage in Barrington Court Subdivision was inadequate to contain the runoffs that we are currently experiencing. Floyd County Stormwater Department has been working to fix this situation. In 2010 we are proud to announce that we have designed a solution to this drainage problem. We also have an agreement with Cornell Harbison Excavating, Inc. to do the work per the designs.

We will be holding a neighborhood meeting in your subdivision on Tuesday September 7th at 11:00 am. We will meet behind 3033 Barrington Court to discuss the construction plans, meet the contractor, and answer any question about the project. This meeting should last around an hour. We do plan on meeting rain or shine. If it becomes a hazard we would change the location. You may contact me anytime to discuss this project, times and place.

You may also find the plans for this project online at floydcounty.in.gov . Go to county offices and click on the stormwater page. Once on the page scroll down to public outreach and projects, there you will find a brief description and plans for your project.

Thanks for your patience and we will see you on September 7th.

Sincerely,

Chris Moore